

Hunter Valley

The Hunter Valley may be known for its wine, but there's so much more to this picturesque region. Get there by car just two hours out of Sydney and ease yourself into the Hunter frame of mind. Long days on the golf course, pampering at the day spas – it's all there waiting for you.

The area will impress with its beautiful scenery. Take a stroll through the Hunter Valley Gardens or add a sunrise hot air balloon flight to the itinerary to see for yourself.

This could be a wine lover's ultimate holiday destination. There are over a hundred wineries and cellar doors to explore. Browse galleries and antique stores, or enjoy the thriving gourmet scene and pick up some homemade sauces, chocolates and cheese to really get a taste for the region.

The Hunter Valley is full of charm. Horse-drawn carriage tours meander along country roads, stopping off for delicious lunches with cheeses and olives grown locally. The surrounding area draws you in with fantastic views and historic villages dotted along the way. Head to World Heritage Listed Barrington Tops National Park to wander through the rainforests and woodlands past streams, waterfalls and towering cliffs.
