

North and West Sydney

Manly

Get to know the real Sydney. It's one thing to break free of the city but if you still want to be in the thick of things, base yourself at its harbourside suburbs. Wake up to sensational views before setting out to the city's nearby attractions. Take your pick from an overwhelming choice of day trips. If it's boutique shopping you're after, Military Road at Mosman is the place. Or head over to Blues Point Road where foodies relish the choice of fine dining, cafés and delis.

Beaches are of course just a short ride away. Take the 30 minute ferry ride from the city to Manly where you don't have to choose between surf and city culture. The Corso is the place to be, with its lively shopping and dining strip leading right down to Manly surf beach. Take a surfing lesson or stay on dry land and hike to the national park. Further north, wind it back at Narrabeen, a chill spot for watersports and family holiday makers.

Get a change of scenery when you head 25 kilometres west to Parramatta. The outlook turns from sand and surf to heritage architecture. Old Government House is Australia's oldest public building and dates back to 1799. Sports enthusiasts and nature lovers alike have plenty of options at Sydney Olympic Park, with its ultra-modern sporting venues, parklands, recreational areas and bike tracks. The whole family will love the Aquatic Centre with its water slide, spray jets, toddlers pool, spa, sauna and massage facilities. Festivals, concerts and sporting events keep venues pumping throughout the year. There's always plenty to explore at your own pace or on a guided tour.

Sydney is your own giant amusement park. But if you're still looking for more, head just outside to Penrith Valley and try white water rafting, canoeing and more amid this aquatic adventure playground.
